I was diagnosed with MS on World MS Day 2012. After absorbing the news, I decided to fight back. I don't think I have a career as a sumo wrestler, at least not a successful one, but I am hoping that with your help we can defeat MS. MS NOW is a 250 million dollar campaign to find a cure for MS. Last year, we raised a little over $30,000. This year, even more?

On behalf of myself, my incredibly supportive husband and my wonderful children - and everyone who has MS and the people who love them, I hope you will support this cause!

The event will be a ton of fun!!

Laughs will be provided by well-known comedian Kelly MacFarland and a fabulous improv troupe, the Bearcats. We can also dance the night away listening to Boston's band, The Winiker Band.

There will be raffles and a live auction featuring exciting items.

Tickets are $50 each. You can purchase your ticket online as a donation on my page or you can send an email to me LaughingCure@gmail.com.

If you can't attend, I hope you will consider making a donation.
